pkrefund is a command line tool with which you'll be able to extract jobs from the printing history, and refund them with the possibility to generate nice looking and configurable PDF receipts.

You'll be allowed to optionally filter the data extraction based on starting and ending dates, which defaults to the complete history, user, printer, client hostname, etc...

The generated documents will contain one page per user, with the number of pages and credits which were refunded.

For more details, please refer to pkrefund's manual page.
